Insist on having a perfect bathroom:

Beautiful, therefore pleasing.
Sanitary, therefore healthful.
Durable, therefore economical.

And besides this let it have an individuality, an expression of your own tastes. These results are easily obtained through our careful following of your wishes and our using "Standard" plumbing fixtures of which there is such an extensive variety of pleasing designs.

Let us estimate for you.

KENTUCKY G. A. R.

Commander Degman Preparing For State Encampment at Louisville

Preparations are being made by members of the Louisville G. A. R. to handle a big crowd of visitors on the occasion of the annual State encampment of the G. A. R., which will be held in Louisville May 22d and 23d.

Department Commander C. C. Degman and Adj. General Levan Dodge are expected to arrive at Louisville May 21st. Headquarters will be established at the Louisville Hotel.

The encampment will be called to order by the Department Commander, C. C. Degman, at 10 a. m., May 22d, at the Scottish Rite cathedral. The reading of the reports of department officers will be followed by election of officers for one year, including delegates to the National Encampment. The session will probably last two days.

Mayor Head of Louisville will welcome the visitors, and former Governor Augustus E. Wilson, Captain Ed. Farley of Paducah; Mrs. Mary H. Dodge, Mrs. Cora Davis, National President; and C. C. Dye will speak.

At the last encampment there were near 1,900 members enrolled, but this year the number will fall far short of that. Death has played havoc with the old veterans and the ratio of deaths will likely reach as high as 15 out of 100 during the past year.

Our Colored Citizens.

Dr. H. P. Taylor, a native of Maysville and pupil of Dr. Thomas E. Pickett of this city, now a leading physician and citizen of Versailles, Ky., is a candidate for State Grand Medical Registrar of the Colored Knights of Pythias, the Grand Lodge of which is shortly to convene in Bowling Green. The Freeman, published at Indianapolis, Ind., in speaking of Dr. H. P. Taylor says:

Dr. H. P. Taylor of Versailles, a young and energetic leader of his people, the founder of the Knights of Pythias Lodge of that city, whose endeavor and life struggle is for the uplifting of the masses among our race, is a graduate of the famous colored doctors' Meharry Medical College at Nashville, Tenn., which has sent from its walls more colored doctors who are cut in the world making good than any other medical college under the stars and stripes. Dr. Taylor is a candidate for Grand Medical Registrar of the state. Dr. Taylor has come out from the large cities to where were Pythians hardly known or heard of and built a concrete form of Pythianism to be carried out in generations to come. It should be the spirit of delegates to lay down personalities and give honor to whom honor is due, and if such true principles are carried out at Bowling Green, Dr. Taylor will be the next Grand Medical Registrar of the state.

OUR WEEKLY SPORT LETTER

BY C. H. ZUBER.

CINCINNATI, O., May 17, 1912.

Just at present the National League race is a two-team affair, with the Reds and the Giants battling for first honors, and the big fight for the position scheduled during the next five days, beginning on Saturday, May 18th and embracing what undoubtedly will be the biggest Sunday audience that ever witnessed a game on the local lot. The other six teams of the National League have been below the 500 mark the greater part of the season, and none of them is showing form that would indicate a speedy overtaking of the two leaders. It is not to be expected that the Reds and the Giants will have this great margin to work on all season. Changes are certain to occur, so that a little later on the race will be closer and more exciting to a greater number of cities. For the present, however, O'Day's athletes and McGraw's champions, are the class of the league, and seekers for real stuff in baseball are looking to the coming series of five games between the two teams as a pretty good test of the respective merits of the aggregations.

It will be recalled that the last Sunday game played by the New Yorks in Cincinnati last season started as a battle of southpaws, with Rube Benton and Rube Margard as the opposing hurlers. Before the contest had progressed far the Giants' southpaw was chased to the woods; but Benton continued his classy work and held the New Yorkers helpless. Efforts now are being made to stage this same combination for the Sunday game during the present series, and if it is done, the fans surely will get a run for their money provided both twirlers are right. Benton has been winning steadily this season, while Margard's work seems to be even better than last season. Under these conditions a battle royal may be expected, with the Reds at least even money choices.

Optimistic followers of the game are picking the Reds to finish at the head of the procession. In order to stimulate the interest and energy of the Reds in battling for the high honor, a local hotel man has pledged himself to purchase automobiles for all the members of the team if they bring home the flag, while another merchant offers $25 worth of groceries, and still another a $40 suit of clothes to each player if the bunting comes this way. Despite this enthusiasm on the part of the followers of the team, the club officials are making no claims. Enormous crowds at all games have testified to the popularity of the Reds, and it is expected that all Saturday and Sunday records will be broken during the New York series, the special Saturday now feature being the formal dedication of the stands, with many dignitaries of National reputation present, to be followed in the evening by a dinner to President Hermann and the officials of the club, with the Cincinnati Commercial Association as hosts. Some doings, gentlemen.

The Attorney General of New Mexico has gone through the laws of that state with a fine-toothed comb and a vacuum cleaner and has failed to find any particles of statutes that would prevent the Jack Johnson-Jim Flynn battle on the Fourth of July. So on the glorious Independence Day, the White Man's Hope and the Ethiopian Clinch will exchange wallops until such time as the referee counts ten without being interrupted by the man on the floor. Johnson at last has started in active work for the bout, and while acknowledging that it's going to be a tough job to get down to real fighting weight, promises to do it. Flynn is already in the vicinity of Las Vegas, where the fight will take place, and will begin active work at once in order to condition and acclimate himself at the same time. Johnson, of course, continues to be the favorite for the decision.

Thousands of athletes of amateur standing in all parts of the world are in active training for the world's Olympic Games, which will be held in Stockholm, Sweden, the latter part of June and early in July.

Yet few of these possible championship winners are aware of the fact that these games date back to the time of Hercules, when short foot races constituted the contests, which occupied but one day. In 724 B. C. longer races were added, other events, such as boxing, wrestling, chariot races and foot races for men in armor were added from time to time. Eventually professionalism crept into the games and they were suppressed in A. D. 394. The modern Olympic games were revived in 1895, and promise to continue as world's events indefinitely.

Abel Attall doesn't propose to be eliminated from the radius of the glare of the pugilistic spotlight, even though he has surrendered his crown as champion of the feathers to Johnny Kilbane. The little Hebrew has established himself on Billy Nolas' ranch in the hills of California, and there hopes to regain the punch, the cleverness and stamina that were his before Kilbane proved that he had all these qualities, or more so. Attall will spend some three months in "coming back," after which he will tackle a few "runners up," eventually taking on Kilbane in an effort to regain his title—provided some of the others don't side track him in the meantime. Abel's intentions are good—but will his physique back them up?

Unusually favorable crop reports come from Texas.

Steel products prices still going up with better orders.

New York Railway Company will expend $750,000 for new stepless cars.

Frosts in spring wheat and corn belts have not seriously affected crops.

Negotiations pending for merger of Knickerbocker Trust and Columbia Trust companies.

Senate committee orders favorably reported bill to prohibit trading in cotton futures except for legitimate purposes.

China and bankers near agreement of $250,000,000 loan, $50,000,000 to be advanced in October and $200,000,000 afterward.

Missouri will have the best apple crop in ten years, according to Prof. J. C. Whitten of the College of Agriculture at Columbia.

ENDORSED AT HOME

SUCH PROOFS AS THIS SHOULD CONVINCE ANY MAYSVILLE CITIZEN

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow-citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Maysville adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsements which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

Mrs. John E. Burns, Maysville, Ky., says: "The testimonial I gave in 1908, when I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. I know that this remedy is just as represented as it has been used by one of my relatives with satisfactory results. This remedy was obtained at Wood & Son's Drug Store."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WASHINGTON THEATER

TONIGHT ONLY

SHALL NEVER HUNGER
THE QUEEN'S NECKLACE
SWORDS AND HEARTS
Always a Good Show.

ADMISSION 5 CENTS

NO MORE shall the war cry sever,
Or winding rivers be red;
They banish our anger forever
When they laurel the graves of our dead!
Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the judgment day,
Love and tears for the Blue,
Tears and love for the Gray.
—Francis Miles Finch.

My Captain does not answer,
His lips are pale and still;
My father does not feel my arm,
He has no pulse nor will;
The ship is anchored safe and sound,
Its voyage closed and done;
From fearful trip the victor ship
Comes in with object won!
Exult, O shores, and ring, O bells!
But I, with mournful tread,
Walk the deck, my Captain lies,
Fallen cold and dead.
—Walt Whitman.

Strike not one jewel from the crest
The loving mother wore;
Reset the gems upon her breast,
Each where it stood before.
Clasp in the glorious cygnusure
The whole dear Thirty-Four.
—Samuel Francis Smith.

After all—
Hark! from the heights
The clear, strong clarion call
And the command imperious:
"Stand forth,
Sons of the South and brothers of the North!
Stand forth and be
As one on soil and sea—
Your country's honor more
Than empire's worth!"
—Frank Lebby Stanton.

Honor to them! Far graves today
Are flinging
Up through the soil peace-blooms
To meet the sun,
And daisied heads through summer
winds are singing
Their long "well done."
—Irene Fowler Brown.
